Health & Safety

You will be staying in a coastal rural location with livestock and other hazards. Please make sure you keep your dogs under control at all times (dogs staying on site must be kept on a lead). Some of the camp equipment can be dangerous if misused. It is your responsibility to ensure you supervise any children you have with you. Please be aware that accidents can happen and we are not responsible for such accidents (to the greatest extent permitted by law).

Children

Some of the camp equipment, games/toys can be dangerous if misused. It is your responsibility to ensure you supervise any children you have with you. Important: Children may use the trampoline at their own risk.

Dogs

We charge £10 for dogs (please ensure your dog is flea free before you leave your home or there will be an additional cleaning charge). Please bring a small spade with you so that you can dispose of any dog waste into the hedgerows away from footpaths. Dogs must be kept under control at all times and those staying on site must be kept on a lead.

Campfires & Braziers

Campfires are permitted, but please keep them off the ground to protect the grass for other guests.

Respect for Others

Staying in a yurt can feel like you are in an insulated room, but remember.. the walls are made of canvas! We ask all our visitors to respect each other, and others staying in the area. Please keep noise to a minimum, especially after 9pm Mon-Thurs and 10pm at weekends.

Damages

Group bookings (specifically hen, stag, and birthday parties) are required to pay a 'damages deposit' of £150 per yurt. This will be returned to you when you depart once we have confirmed there is no major damage to our units, their contents, or the shared facilities. Please inform us of any damages so that we can replace / fix things before our next guests arrive.

Cancellations

Cancellations made more than 45 days before the holiday start date will be subject to a 30% cancellation fee, equal to your non-refundable deposit paid.

We suggest you take out the necessary holiday insurance to cover any losses.
